

WHY DO SOME DIVORCE CASES HURT FAMILIES?

Many family law litigants get caught up in the revenge/punishment aspect of family law. The path of destruction a scorned spouse can reap is limited only by their imagination.

If you are caught up in a nasty family law case here are three questions to ask yourself:

1. Do my children really benefit by not spending quality time with their Mother/Father?
2. If I spend enough money on my case will my life really benefit?
3. How does my inability to move on with my life hurt my family?
